U.1 Training Opportunity from Prestigious MIT

The Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT) is offering its Professional Education Program "Crisis Management and Business Continuity" at their campus in Cambridge, MA. from July 23-27, 2012. Tuition is $3,000.00. Click here to register.

U.2 We had to see this coming...

The internet has woven itself into almost everything we do so it isn't surprising that the call for cyber security is at an all-time high. Businesses must be ever diligent: click here to read about three current cyber attack trends to lookout for.

U.3 On the Lookout for Extinct PT&C's

Business continuity & disaster recovery plans are based on evolving processes, technologies and communications and, like the dinosaurs, some of these pieces will become extinct. For more, read Jennie's Clinton's recent article.

U.4 Update those calendars

If you're like me, you find it helpful to put placeholders for future events in your calendar. Here are some possible entries for you:

DRIF TO Symposium: March 6, 2012
DRJ Spring World Conference: March 25, 2012
DRIF SWO Spring Symposium: May 2, 2012
DRI Conference: May 20-23, 2012
World Conference on Disaster Mgmt: June 25-27, 2012

member exchange of ideas and information. We hold full day Symposia twice a year (May and October), with presentations on topics of interest to business continuity planners. Our chapter is led by a volunteer executive, with voting membership, and member services. Business Continuity Planners and others in related fields who live, work or travel within South Western Ontario are encouraged to join DRIE SWO and enjoy the many opportunities for "face to face" networking this provides.
