

Rachelle Loyear, Vice President of Integrated Security Solutions at Allied Universal®, leads the organization's Enterprise Security Risk Management program. Throughout her career, Rachelle has dedicated herself to developing and managing programs within corporate security organizations. Her expertise lies in security risk management with a focus on enterprise resilience against various physical and cyber risks.

Rachelle's contributions extend beyond her professional roles. In 2016, she co-authored "The Manager's Guide to Enterprise Security Risk Management: Essentials of Risk-Based Security," followed by the release of "The Manager's Guide to Simple, Strategic, Service-Oriented Business Continuity." She is also a co-author of the 2018 book, "Enterprise Security Risk Management: Concepts and Applications."

Active in the industry, Rachelle serves on the ASIS North American Board of Directors and previously chaired the ESRM Community Steering Committee. She also contributes to the Cybersecurity Advisory board for SIA. Rachelle holds certifications as a Certified Information Security Manager (CISM) through ISACA, a Master Business Continuity Professional (MBCP) through DRI International, and a certified Project Management Professional (PMP) through the Project Management Institute (PMI). Her multifaceted expertise and leadership make her a valuable asset in shaping security and risk management practices.

Rachelle earned her MBA in Business from the University of Phoenix in 2007 and her BA in History from the University of North Carolina at Charlotte in 1998. Her academic background, coupled with her extensive professional experience, positions her as a thought leader and influencer in the field of security risk management.